ABOUT OUR COMPANY & FABRICS

At Satsuma Designs we create our products from all natural fibers that treat baby and the environment with a soft touch. Our collection of products is all natural in content, color and our commitment to our customer. We use an assortment of natural materials that include bamboo, organic cotton and more.

Bamboo

Bamboo is a sustainable and organically grown resource. At Satsuma Designs we work with suppliers who operate with the most environmentally friendly production practices. Discover our naturally antibacterial products spun from bamboo. Viscose from bamboo is fashioned from all natural materials, our blankets and accessories drape like silk and wash like cotton.

Sustainable Resource

- Bamboo is grown without pesticides.
- It's a renewable resource that retains and maintains soil health.
- Bamboo grows to maturity in 2-3 years.

Closed loop production methods

The fabrics we use in our products are manufactured using the most innovative closed loop production systems that preserve the integrity of the fabric and protect the environment in which they're produced.

Comfortable and Clean

- Our bamboo has an incredible soft "hand". Whether choosing a silky jersey, plush velour or cozy terry or fleece, Satsuma Designs' bamboo will comfort again and again.
- Bamboo is naturally antibacterial. Its intrinsic properties fend off microbes in the wild and third party tests of our fabric have shown the same.
- Bamboo is breathable and thermo-regulating. With a high absorbency rate, it wicks moisture away while the natural fiber allows the transfer of air for ultimate comfort.
- We promote bamboo's natural color without harsh dyes. We only use natural dyes in our products.

Certification

- Oeko-Tex Standard 100 – 2010
- Meets Consumer Products Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) requirements
- Organic Crops Improvement Association International (OCIA) has certified the farms that produce the bamboo we use as organic and wild.

Organic Cotton

Organic cotton is grown using methods and materials that have a low impact on the environment. Organic production systems replenish and maintain soil fertility, reduce the use of toxic and persistent pesticides and fertilizers, and support biologically diverse agriculture.

Certification

A LITTLE MORE

Satisfaction guaranteed!

We're in this business for the long-term and treat our customers as friends for life. If we fail to meet expectations for our products, customer service or practices, we'll refund the items at our expense and make strides to improve any aspect of our business that's found lacking. We promise!

No-Waste Design

We operate under a 'no-waste design' principal and take care to recycle and up-cycle material used in our production process. You'll find innovative new products from us that utilize everything from cutting table scraps to the ribbon we use in our packaging. We're committed to sustainability throughout our business.

Packaging

Satsuma Designs packages our products for retail with care for the environment. We use packaging that can be recycled whether by conventional recycling methods or by repurposing our attractive and durable packaging materials into new and innovative ways.

Care of Satsuma Designs

While we know washing up after baby often involves a hot wash and dry, to preserve the life of our products, we recommend a cool, gentle wash and line dry. For a finishing touch, a warm iron is nice, but certainly not required. You'll enjoy peace of mind knowing that Satsuma Designs will last.
